KC Glass & Materials, strategy workshop for the realization of Smart Factory

In the 4th revolution era, new paradigms and technologies appear rapidly. Its representative case is Smart Factory in which ICT and manufacturing facility are fused. The realization of smart factory becomes an alternative to improve competitiveness and productivity of manufacturing which was decreased due to sharp wage increase and lack of labor force. To cope with such trend of change, KC Glass & Materials created a smart factory TF team in January 2018 and makes effort to promote the business.

Last June 8th, an overnight workshop was held to realize smart factory in Sinjin-do, Chungnam where Jeongwan Kim, representative director, TF team and part heads participated. The workshop started from afternoon was a constructive time to review the justification and problems of smart factory and TF progress and further realization plan.

Jeongwan Kim, also suggested that “let’s figure out necessity, effect and embedded risks in the realization of smart factory and prepare a plan of introducing smart factory technology selectively and gradually according to our reality.”

After the workshop, they enjoyed on-deck fishing and relieved stress and tension from workshop and daily life. It was a meaningful time to share joy with colleagues and to develop credibility. It is hoped to have successful introduction and stable realization of smart factory through continual workshop and strategic meeting (The end).
